“My God, my God, why have you forsaken me?”

On the cross, Jesus utters his final words: “My God, my God, why have you forsaken me?” (Mark 15:34). The words express the pain and suffering of feeling abandoned by God. On the cross, Jesus reveals his profound communion and solidarity with human suffering. Along with the suffering is Jesus’ hope in his Father—the God of Life. Jesus abandons and surrenders himself into his Father’s hands. From the cross, the Lord calls us to follow his footsteps and to witness with obedience to the Father’s love.

Our Sacred Paschal Triduum, which begins on Thursday evening, reminds us that following in Jesus’ footsteps includes washing the feet of one another. And this happens as we are fed and nourished by our Lord’s very body and blood. We become one with him and one with all of creation—especially the suffering and those who are displaced and at the margins of society: the crucified of our day. We experience intimately the God of Love. The God of Life.

The Sacred Paschal Triduum

On Holy Thursday, we process with oils. We wash feet. We remember and make present the first celebration of the sacrifice of the Eucharist. On Good Friday, we proclaim the Passion of the Lord and affirm that the obedient, suffering servant is the new high priest. We process with a cross and adore it affirming, too, that this Cross is the tree of life on which our Savior hung and through which eternal life came. At the Easter Vigil on Holy Saturday, we tell story upon story of the history of our faith. We announce the Resurrection of our Savior through music, the liturgical environment, and the proclamation of the Easter Gospel. As people of God, who have journeyed 40 days in the desert, we receive anew the life giving waters of baptism, following the renewal of our baptismal promises. Two young adults of our community: Marissa Nicole Magaña and James Bryan Powers confirm their faith and receive the Sacrament of Confirmation. These are holy days and the highlight of our year as followers of Christ. The Paschal Mystery of the death and resurrection of our Lord leads us into a 50 day celebration of Easter! We show forth our very identity as Christians!
Join us on Holy Thursday, March 29 at 7:00 pm.
